Web-based content management - No additional software needed

Key factors to consider when planning a LED message center project:

- 1) Business goal and project scope/budget plan
- 2) Form factor consideration (size, single or double faces, aspect ratio etc.)
- 3) Average viewing distance and viewing angle
- 4) The sign orientation (Brightness consideration)
- 5) Available power and data connections
- 6) Cloud-based content management
- 7) Installation structural conditions
- 8) Warranty coverage and service response time
